1. EFOEUPATI – Ensuring the Future of EUPATI

The European Patients' Academy on Therapeutic Innovation (EUPATI) was funded by the Innovative Medicines Initiative in the period February 2012 to January 2017 (known as well as IMI-EUPATI Project 2012-2017). It aimed to trigger a major rethink in the way patients and the public understand the medicines development process and their own involvement therein. Armed with a deeper understanding, patient experts and advocates will be empowered to work effectively with the relevant authorities, healthcare professionals and industry to influence the medicines development process for the benefit of patients.

Ensuring the Future of EUPATI (EFOEUPATI) is a project funded under the Innovative Medicines Initiative 2 (IMI2), grant agreement number 806995. The project will run from 1 September 2018 until 31 August 2020 and it aims to ensure optimal exploitation and sustainability of the core achievements of the IMI-EUPATI Project 2012-2017: Patient Expert Training Course, the multilingual public Toolbox, and the EUPATI National Platforms Network (ENP). It is imperative that these pillars exist in the medium- and long-term to address the growing field of patient engagement. The project is co-lead by the European Patients' Forum (EPF) and Bayer.

One of the objectives of the project is to create a Patient Education and Engagement Portal that will host relevant information and resources for patients and other stakeholders to ensure meaningful and value adding patient engagement in medicines R&D. This will end up replacing the existing EUPATI website www.eupati.eu which focuses on the delivery of the Patient Engagement Toolbox, ensuring it meets the future needs of the Patients' Academy.

2. EPF – General Information

The European Patients' Forum (EPF) was founded in 2003 to ensure that the patients' community drives policies and programmes that affect patients' lives to bring changes empowering them to be equal citizens in the EU.

EPF currently represents 70+ members, which are national coalitions of patient's organisations and disease-specific European platforms. EPF reflects the voice of an estimated 150 million patients affected by various chronic diseases throughout Europe.

EPF's vision for the future is that all patients with chronic and/or lifelong conditions in the EU have access to high quality, patient-centred equitable health and social care.

3. Purpose of the Tender

The purpose of this call is to invite tenders for the contract of web developer/service provider that will design and develop a Patient Education and Engagement Portal, based on the user, functional, and data management requirements attached to this call (please see section 5 – Requirements).

The portal will provide information on the involvement of patients in medicines research and development processes, and support all stakeholders in these activities, including providing an infrastructure for Alumni of the EUPATI Patients Expert Course to collaborate with each other and third-parties. The site will provide reusable educational information, and resources as well as tools, guidance and standards developed by existing and future and initiatives for the patient community and the stakeholders with whom they interact.

The EUPATI.eu Patient Education and Engagement Portal will enable users (patients, industry and academia) to:

- Identify what training material, educational content, tools, templates, guidance, etc are available to increase their effectiveness and add value during their involvement in the medicines research and development process;
- Identify synergies and opportunities for collaboration with different stakeholders;
- Provide resources and connections in an innovative, reusable, and multilingual way to enable wider and more effective engagement.

The EFOEUPATI team will work with the web developer throughout the design and development phase to ensure all individual sections of the portal match the requirement specified. Strict quality checkpoints, including ethical review of the design of the system and its data management, will be enforced to ensure that pre-defined requirements are achieved.

Once the portal is populated with content representative of the full site, user testing will be conducted with volunteers from the EUPATI consortium, EUPATI National Platforms, and the EUPATI network, to assess whether the site meets the user requirements. Timely user testing will ensure that any remedial action can be taken with the developer to ensure that the requirements are met. After the completion of user testing, the site will be populated with all remaining content and additional users performing administrative and moderation roles will be trained before a seamless transition from the existing EUPATI websites to the new Patient Education and Engagement Portal. The completed portal will be validated against the requirements, including any changes that were made throughout the process.
